

REGULATORS ARE READY TO END HOSTILITIES

Strong Support Develops in Senate For President Wilson's Policy For Supervision of Central American Republic—Borah Attacks Plan, Saying "This Means the Going Up of the American Flag All the Way to the Panama Canal."

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—A strong support has developed in the senate for president Wilson's policy of protection and supervision of Nicaragua. An informal poll of the committee on foreign relations today indicated that the treaty proposed Saturday by secretary Bryan will be endorsed with a safe margin of votes and come into the senate with the backing of influential members of both political parties.

It became known definitely today that the proposed treaty will not bind the United States to any obligation for the outstanding debts of Nicaragua. The rehabilitation of the public finances is expected to come about through the stability that would be given to future operations through the control to be exercised by the United States.

Intervene at Any Time. Nicaragua would agree to make no debts in excess of her current resources, however, and the treaty would be given the right to intervene with troops any time or to protect life and property in the country.

Get Route for Canal. The proposed treaty will be attacked in some quarters, as it would not make any provision for the Panama canal.

Not Dollar Diplomacy. The attitude of the administration, it was stated, is one of extreme friendliness and good will toward the republic, and it is thoroughly acceptable.

Smart Attacks Tariff. A senator from the Democratic side has attacked the tariff bill.

See Invasion From Asia. The senator also attacked the tariff bill.

Burton Denounces Free Trade. The senator also attacked the tariff bill.

Did the Teacher Scold You for Whispering in School?

If she did, wouldn't you have liked to go to a school where you could not only whisper but talk right out loud, and incidentally learn more in a week than you did in a month in your ordinary school?

There is just such a wonderful school, an elementary school for country kids. It was started more than two years ago at Rock Hill, S. C., and it is infusing a model for other country schools.

It is a wonderful story, and it has never been printed. The story will be told for the first time in a series of articles by Frederic J. Haskin, beginning in The El Paso Herald tomorrow.

El Paso Man Drops Dead While Victrola Plays His Dead Wife's Favorite.

DIES IN HOME OF EL PASO WOMAN

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 21.—While listening to his deceased wife's favorite music, Philip Gibson, of El Paso, Tex., fell to the floor in the apartment of Mrs. Allen D. Smith, 902-A North Taylor avenue, and died there last night. Sunday morning, several hours after the fall.

A coroner's inquest began Monday morning. Pending the outcome, Mrs. Smith is being held.

"Heart Throbs" was the tune which was being played at Gibson's request, on Mrs. Smith's Victrola when he was stricken.

Col. Hatfield Sends It In, but Says He Does Not Believe It Is True.

VILLA FAILS TO GET HIS ARTILLERY

SPARK of life was injected into the Juarez attack Sunday when a message was received from Col. C. A. P. Hatfield, of the 13th cavalry, by Gen. Hugh L. Scott, at Fort Bliss, saying that a sergeant at Dog Springs, N. M., near the border, had reported that Villa's command was moving on Juarez.

Neither he nor the postscript of the message killed the story, for Col. Hatfield added that he did not believe the report to be true and that Villa was believed to be in his camp at Ascension.

The delay in the attack on Guaymas by the rebels and the seizure of the car of ammunition here is believed to have delayed Villa's move on Juarez.

Instead, the guns at Cananea were turned toward the front at Guaymas, and Villa was left without artillery.

The rebels who escorted Juan Dolz at Agua Prieta were still there Saturday under command of Francisco Dora, a brother of Juan. They brought a number of extra mounts to Agua Prieta.

They also sent a number of his men back into the Casas Grandes country to fight the bandits in that section.

He also reported that he had sent 200 men and 100 mules to Madera to protect the Americans there.

This has weakened his command and doubtless the rebels are moving on Juarez, if the plan has not been entirely given up.

Officials of the Madera Lumber company have appealed to Gen. Francisco Magro, federal commander in Juarez, to send troops to Madera.

The lumber company's officials are fearful of wholesale killing of their employees.

The Americans of their district are in greater peril today than ever before.

There is no communication with the rebels, and the situation is becoming more and more serious.

It is intimated by the lumber company officials that they may rely on the federal army to relieve the situation.

A detachment of Villa's men under Col. Porfirio Salinas is operating against bandits in the Casas Grandes district at present.

John Parks, an American butcher of Madera, was slashed across the face with a sword by "El Mocho" Martinez.

According to C. S. Smith, partner of Ben Griffin, the American rancher who was killed in the past in Ciudad Juarez, the taking of Griffin's life was a deliberate murder.

Several arrests of supposed rebel sympathizers have been made in Ciudad Juarez during the past two days.

The men taken into custody in Ciudad Juarez are believed to be Americans.

Ammunition is being smuggled across the river near Fabens for the rebels.

Intervention Is Sure, Says a General

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The United States will be forced to intervene in Mexico, according to Brig. Gen. Robert K. Evans, commanding the department of the Gulf, who is here.

"I have said all along," declared Gen. Evans today, "that it is only a matter of time when this country will be compelled to take a hand in settling the Mexican situation."

"Just when it will be necessary for the United States to step in, I cannot say, but this country and European countries have citizens and subjects in Mexico whose lives and property must be protected and if we do not take the initiative, the foreign countries will disregard the Monroe doctrine and intervene."

It is reported today that the Wilson administration will likely recognize the belligerency of the rebels and this will mean that Huerta will have to fight upon an equal footing, as they would be permitted to get ammunition from the United States through any ports they may hold.

In the past, only the Huerta government has been accorded this privilege. Many believe such a policy of the United States would result in the overthrow of Huerta.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The New York American today prints the following Washington dispatch:

"Grave international problems, including the seizure of 13 Americans in Mexico, the threats of rebels to attack Frontera, on the east coast and vehement protests from Costa Rica, against the United States Nicaragua canal agreement, have necessitated the calling back of secretary of state Wm. J. Bryan, from his lecture tour."

OROZCO'S FORCES KILL 90 REBELS IN BATTLE

Orozco's federal forces met the rebels under Chao at Ortiz Saturday in two engagements which netted a loss of 90 for the rebel forces.

This information was received in private telegrams which were sent from Chihuahua Sunday.

Orozco was pushing his track building work from Santa Rosalia, to Ortiz, when the rebels of Chao's command attempted to stop the operations.

The first fight started in the morning Saturday and resulted in 75 rebels being killed.

The rebels withdrew and then returned, losing 15 the second time.

The federal losses were not known, although they were thought to have been slight, as the federals under Orozco were fighting from armored trains.
